Press Release

Philippe Nourry to take the leadership of Eiffage motorway concessions in France

Philippe Nourry has been appointed Head of all the Group's in service French motorway concessions with effect from 1 September 2017.

As such, he has the responsibility of:

- APRR and AREA
- Adelac (A41 North motorway)
- A'Liéonor (A65 motorway)
- CEVM, Compagnie Eiffage du Viaduc de Millau (Millau Viaduct concessionnaire) and represents Eiffage on the Boards of:

- SMTPC (Société Marseillaise du Tunnel Prado Carénage)
- SPS (Société Prado Sud).

After graduating from the Ecole des Mines engineering school and IFG business school, Philippe Nourry began his career in 1982 with Gerland Routes, which joined the Eiffage Group in 1993. He held a range of operational positions within Eiffage's Roads division, including Regional Director for the Great South-East region. In 2006, Philippe Nourry was appointed Chief Operating Officer of APRR and AREA, becoming Deputy CEO in 2008. In the same year, he was also appointed Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of CEVM and Chairman of Adelac (A41 North motorway). In 2011, he became Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of APRR and AREA, and became a member of the Eiffage Group's Executive Committee. He is also Deputy Chairman of ASFA, the French motorway industry association.

About Eiffage
